Average first year depreciation of the Ford car is $125 as against $250 to $400 for practically any of the lower priced cars.

It is difficult to set any definite figure for the depreciation of an automobile. So much depends on the condition of the individual car at the end of the season.

The average price paid for used cars in the $1000-or-less class at any time during the first year is about $250 to $400 less than the first cost. But the average used Ford sells very quickly for $125 less than the purchase price.

Compare the Ford depreciation cost of about $10 a month with the probable $30 or more a month that the other kind will cost you. Which is the better investment?

Sapper Arnold Heywood Has Made the Supreme Sacrifice

The following telegram was received by Mrs. Heywood Thursday morning from the war office:

"Ottawa, June 28th, '16.
Deeply regret to inform you Sapper Arnold Heywood, engineer, officially reported killed in action June 22nd.

Officer in Charge Record office, Mr. Heywood enlisted with the 13th C.M.I. over a year ago, and was transferred to Conthar's Engineering Corps, and went overseas last January. Soon after arrival in England the corps was sent to the front.

This is the first fatal casualty among the men who have enlisted from Blairmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Heywood came from England to Blairmore six years ago. He was a quiet unassuming man. He followed the trade of blacksmith and in that capacity worked at the cement works for several years.

He leaves a wife and two small children to mourn his loss. The Enterprise joins with the people of Blairmore in heartfelt sympathy for the berieved family. May true patriotism be shown by never forgetting in the days to come the one that has laid down his life for us and by remembering the loved ones he has left behind.
He died to uphold the flag.
May we not forget the burning words of Mr. J. E. Gillis when he presented the colors to the 102nd Battalion on June 16th.
"Those of us that remain may have to go for this flag must be upheld at all cost and all sacrifice."

Plan to Get Rid of German-Made Goods

Retail merchants who purchased German made goods before the war have found themselves in a difficult position. If they did not dispose of the goods they suffered a financial loss that they could ill afford. If they did offer them for sale someone would discover the "made-in-Germany" tag, and the unfortunate vendor would be denounced as a traitor and a renegade and guilty of trading with the enemy. It was an unpleasant predicament, either way.

The retail section of the board of trade has been discussing the case of merchants who have German made goods, purchased and paid for before the war, which they are unable to dispose of because of public sentiment.

In discussing the matter, it was suggested that perhaps the newspapers might institute an advertising campaign, whereby the merchants who have their money tied up in this way, advertise the fact that during a certain period they will put on a special sale of these goods, the newspapers probably sharing a special advertising page for that purpose, and explaining how the enemy's goods happen to be on the merchants' shelves. In this way the stock could be disposed of, and the money which is now tied up will be released for the purchase of Canadian or British goods.

The low postal rates granted by the Canadian postoffice to publishers of newspapers, is abused by many of the big daily papers. To mail subscribers many of these papers are sold below cost, in order that the publishers may obtain advertising rates based upon their actual paid up circulation. The majority of the daily papers in Canada are simply advertising mediums, or organs for political rings and big corporations. Their editorials on many subjects are of no value, being colored to suit the power behind the overfist. Their news items are often written to suit their own game without regard to truth. The postoffice should not be used as a cheap medium for booming advertising literature.

MARY PICKFORD

In the noted play of theatrical life

"Behind The Scenes"

By Margaret Mayo, authoress of "Baby Mine"

In Five Parts

A fascinating play that contrasts the drama of life with the glamour of the footlights. In the role of the little actress, Mary Pickford renders one of the best characterizations of her brilliant career.

By the Lieutenant-governor-in-council the bylaw changing the name of "Berlin," Ont., to "Kitchener," has been ratified. The electors having voted in favor of Kitchener.

Dr. Karl Liebknecht, the Socialist leader in Germany, has been sentenced to 30 months penal servitude and dismissed from the army for attempted high treason, gross insubordination and resistance to the authorities.

The Cologne Volks Zeitung is authority for Canadian gallantry as Ypres in saying: "Many of them made obstinate resistance, preferring to be killed rather than surrender. One general and several officers, who refused to give in, were killed. The general drew his sword, and when the sergeant demanded his surrender he bent the sergeant through the face, whereupon the infantrymen bayoneted him. Many such groups who resisted desperately, and refused all mercy, had to be cleared out with bombs."

Not of Pre-Glacial Period

Theory Based on Finding of Body in British Columbia Has Been Exploded.

A theory, based upon the discovery of a human skeleton in earth beds alleged to be of glacial age, that man has been present on the North American continent at a much earlier period than had ever been supposed, has been exploded by the results of a special investigation conducted by officials of the geological survey, which are published in the annual report of that branch, just issued.

The discovery of the human remains, which was made near Savona, B. C., caused a mild scientific sensation. It was made the subject of a paper presented to the Royal Society of Canada at its meeting last year, the claim then being made that the age of glacial age. If this claim had been established, it would have given evidence of the presence of man long before it has been considered that anything in human form existed in North America, and would have opened many theories hitherto held on this subject.

The results of investigation, however, dispense of all of any very great antiquity for the remains discovered. C. W. Drysdale, while engaged in the geological survey, while F. H. S. Knowles, of the Anthropological branch, examined the remains. Dr. Drysdale's conclusion is that "the alluvial series at this section is clearly of recent and not glacial age." Knowles, from an examination of the skeleton found, although it is in a somewhat defective condition, has been able to deduce that it is that of an Indian woman, well on in years, probably about 50 to 60 years of age. He suffered from chronic rheumatism, had an active mode of life in her earlier years, and was accustomed to rest in a reclining posture, as usual among primitive peoples.

The verdict of this scientific committee is that "the woman may have been buried in Kamloops lake and her body buried along with the normal accumulation of silt and gravel on the lake bottom."

For Army Workers

Equipment for the Canadian Overseas Railway Construction Corps.

Gigantic steam shovels weighing 65 tons each, capable of excavating up to the rate of 150 to 200 cubic yards an hour, and self-propelling extension track pile drivers, are just of the equipment recently received by the government for Col. C. W. F. Ramsey, of the Canadian Overseas Railway Construction Corps. This plant was selected by Col. Ramsey's colleagues in the engineering department of the Canadian Pacific Railway and is being prepared by that company at the request of the government for shipment abroad. The Canadian Overseas Railway Construction Corps has already built many miles of track at strategic points and is all the while engaged in surveys for further construction. The work has often been done under fire, and though there have been no many narrow escapes there have been no serious casualties. Out of the non-commissioned officers and apprentices that enlisted on the foundation of the corps, it has already received commissions in the Royal Engineers, a remarkable tribute to their efficiency, while Col. Ramsey, Major Harvey have been mentioned in dispatches. The splendid work of these Canadian engineers has been highly appreciated by the allied commanders.

Senator Gore of Oklahoma, while addressing a convention in Oklahoma City recently, told the story, illustrating a point he made:

"A northern gentleman was being entertained by a southern colonel on a fishing trip. It was his first visit to the south, and the mosquitoes were so bothersome that he was unable to sleep, while at the same time he could hear his friend snoring away."

"The next morning he approached the old fellow who was doing the cooking."

"Jim," he said, "how is it the colonel is able to sleep so peacefully with so many mosquitoes around?"

"I'll tell you, boss," the cook replied, "de must part of de night de kernal is too full to pay any 'tention to de skeeters, and de last part of de night de skeeters is too full to pay any 'tention to de kernal!"

Ireland's True National Color

The question raised in the London press, recently, as to what is really the national color of Ireland, does not admit of debate, at any time from a historical point of view. The national color is of course blue and not green. The adoption of the "immortal green" dates, it is generally supposed, from the rebellion of '98. At that time Ulster Orangemen wore the common green with the Irish national emblem, the shamrock, and a green flag was chosen for their emblem because green was the color produced by the blending of orange and blue. The national flag, too, of Ireland was green, and the white flag showing the red saltire of St. Patrick—Christian Science Monitor.

Women Watchmen

In Germany and Austria, women, as in Great Britain, are releasing men from arduous employments for the war, and a Berlin investigator affirms that they are specially successful as night watchmen.

At Lichtenburg one of these lady watchmen secured the arrest of two notorious burglars. Another waited until three burglars had opened their loot into a motor-car and then jumped on the footboard as the car was driving off. The burglar mistook her for a passenger and she was so alarmed that they jumped out of the car and left it and the booty to the watchwoman.

Of course, we all are aware that ladies are experts at capturing men in any case.

Good Roads

Good Rural Roads Are of the Utmost Value to the Farmer

One of those lovers of statistics, who spend their days in computations and their nights in figures, have calculated that there is hauled over the roads of Canada every year 100,000,000 tons of freight for a distance of five miles per ton. The computation is based on the amount of tonnage of the railways of the Dominion, which amount to approximately 60,000,000 tons every year, together with an additional amount for local traffic in view of the fact that the majority of railway freight must be hauled at both ends of the journey the estimate does not seem to be exaggerated.

The cost of hauling on the roads of Canada is rarely less than 25 cents a mile so that the total cost of the haulage of produce and goods in one year reaches the enormous proportion of $125,000,000. The estimated cost of hauling freight on the roads of Europe is estimated at from eight to twelve cents per ton mile, so that it would seem that a system of good roads would mean a saving over the amount now spent of something over $25,000,000.

In view of the campaign for greater traffic it would seem that the good roads problem is one that should not be forgotten also that bad roads mean a loss of time to the farmer and a loss of money to the consumer at Montreal one of the engineers who has made a study of the roads around the city has estimated that for twelve working days on every farm in the province of Quebec.

Rural roads are the primary channels of traffic. Along the roads produce is hauled, and the farmer's life is their origin. If the common roads were closed the railway lines would decay and their rolling stock become fit for the scrap heap. The ocean liners would rust at their moorings if the roads were closed. Nations have even prospered without railways but good roads have always been vital to industrial development and national progress.

Bad roads limit the output of farms to the kind and amount of produce that can be drawn to market. Good roads permit the farmer to take advantage of the best market for his produce and to the utmost of the land. In other words, it may be broadly said that the roads of a country are restricted to the amount of produce that can be hauled over the roads whereas with good roads it is restricted only by the amount and quality that can be sold on the market.

Today in the Dominion of Canada there are about 200,000 miles of gravel roads, according to an estimate made for the Dominion government by Mr. W. A. MacLean, deputy minister of the interior. Ontario, which should be the objective of every municipality in Canada to do its share in the "Bala Hyman" within its boundaries by steady and persistent effort so that their cumulative efforts will result in a network of splendid highways and a network of branches linked up in some comprehensive plan—Saskatoon Star.

Pushing on to Arctic Ocean

Word Received From R. N. W. M. P. Detachment, Which Left Regina Last Summer

Word was received by Corporal Wright, of the Brooks detachment of the R. N. W. M. P., from brother Constable James Wright, who is one of the Bear Lake patrol who left Regina last summer, that the Arctic patrol in search of two missing parties, that the police patrol resumed Beaver river, where the priests' deserted cabin is located.

The letter was dated January 3 and was received by the detachment through. Inspector La Naze is in charge of the patrol and Constables Wright and Williams are the other policemen. Arden, a prospector, and an Eskimo interpreter also accompany the party. They are on the Arctic Ocean, according to a letter, travelling via Dismal Lakes. At the coast Inspector Naze and Arden will cross over to some islands and will circle the gulf in search of the tribe of Eskimos who are supposed to have returned Father Beavert and Larour. Arden saw members of this tribe with the priests' cases and rifles in the fall of 1914 and the priests have been missing since 1912. The tribe was discovered four years ago by Stefansson and are said to be unusually friendly. The patrol will be three years on the trip.

The Limit

He was a very small boy. Paddy was his dog. Paddy was nearer to his heart than anything on earth. When Paddy met with swift and hideous death on the turnpike road his mother trembled to break the news. But it had to be, and he was to come home from school she told him simply: "Paddy has been run over and killed."

He took it very quietly; finished his dinner with appetite and spirits unimpaired. All day he was at school. But five minutes after he had gone up to bed there echoed through the house a shrill and sudden lamentation. His mother rushed upstairs with solicitude and sympathy.

"Nurse," she sobbed, "that Paddy has been run over and killed."

"But dear, I told you that at dinner and you didn't seem to trouble at it."

"No—but I didn't know, you said Paddy—I-I thought you said Waddy!"

Buying Up Horses

Scarcity of Horses 'I Over Dominion is the report

Since the outbreak of the war, the British Remount Commission has purchased in Canada 15,000 horses, 5,000 have been bought by French contractors and 20,000 by the Canadian Department of Militia. The Department of Militia is now engaged in buying an additional thousand head. The British Remount Commission has purchased over 700 since March and is buying daily in Montreal. French contractors are anxious to obtain supplies and are arranging to buy all the horses available in the East and in the West. It is understood that, as a result of the purchases already made, army buyers have found it increasingly difficult, both in United States and in Canada, to readily secure the number of horses which they require, particularly of the type suitable for heavy cavalry or heavy artillery.

In addition to the purchases for army command, commercial activity from two distinct quarters has exerted a very evident influence upon the Canadian horse market during the past three or four months. Since the beginning of the year, 6,000 horses reached the Winnipeg Stock Yards from Eastern Canada and 9,000 were shipped from the same yards westward, mostly to Saskatchewan. During the month of January, February and March, 1,500 horses were exported to the United States. A few hundred more were sent west to the same markets in April. The horses exported were good farm chucks weighing from 1,300 to 1,500 lbs. and of a good quality for animals possessing extra quality and conformation. This new movement of horses has had a marked effect upon prices all over Canada.

Dreams Have Been Utilized

Some Inventions and Writings the Result of Visions While Sleeping

We are apt to regard a dream as waste material, which has no real reference or touch with the actual, but is not always so, and the questions might be asked whether we make as good use of the material as we could in the earlier stages of the world.

There have been several cases of dreams about the location of lost cities, and the location of the lost cities which have baffled the mathematicians while awake, solving themselves in sleep. But it is probable that modern man reduced dreaming to so scientific and useful a point as Robert Fulton's dream of the steamship.

He was a wonderful dreamer, and could dream in sequence, continuing from the end of one dream to the beginning of, like a serial story. It was in this way that the greater part of "The Hunch of Wall Street" was written. Well, if a man can dream a masterpiece of fiction, it is worth something. Ask any American what the finest national hymn in the world is and he will say, with Colonel Roosevelt, that "The Hymn of the Republic" is head and shoulders better than the best—that it "beats to a frazzle all others."

Soon after the outbreak of the Civil War, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, who wrote the hymn of the Republic, was singing "John Brown's Body." The tune sang in her mind, and she thought she should like to write a poem to fit it, but they wouldn't come. She retired for the night, and the whole poem as it came into her mind, and she wrote it down. Then she got back to bed and slept till morning.

But perhaps the case is taken in this sort of thing by the inventor of the sewing machine. Elias Howe was the man, and his difficulty was not the machine, but the needle. He might have failed altogether but for his dream. He thought he was in a strange land and was to be executed if he did not complete the machine and make it sew.

He was given twenty-four hours, and he spent it in agony of work, apparently. It was all useless, until he was actually being led to the place of death. On the way he noticed that the warriors who guarded him carried spears which were placed near his head. Instantly the inventor saw the solution of his difficulty, and while he was begging for time he awoke. It was 4 o'clock in the morning. He leaped out of bed, rushed to his workshop, and before breakfast he had modeled the first sewing machine needle, with the eye at the point—From Answers, London.

Shortage of Horses in the Dominion

That Canada is experiencing a shortage of horses on account of the heavy drain of supplying thousands for military purposes, was the statement of J. H. Bright, Dominion live stock commissioner, who attended the meeting of the National Live Stock Record Board in Toronto.

"There were not enough horses in Canada to work the land," he declared. "Something must be done to conserve our supply."

On account of farmers' credit with the banks being curtailed, there has been a falling off in the breeding of horses since 1914.

The Imperial Chancellor, in his famous speech in the Reichstag, said that there must be a change. Evidently the Belgians in East Africa are of the same thinking. They have captured 50 miles of German territory, and named the first town that they took possession of, Liege.

Celebration of Anzac Day

Giving Tributes Paid to Heroes by George Mc L. Brown, European Manager of the C. P. R.

On April 24th the "Fall Mall Gazette" of London, England contained many views of the celebration of Anzac Day at Westminster Abbey commemorating the landing of troops from Australia and New Zealand on the Gallipoli Peninsula, which occurred on April 25, 1915. The anniversary of the following glowing tribute paid by Mr. George Mc L. Brown, European Manager of the C. P. R.

"The solemn beauty of Westminster Abbey, which echoes with the story of our past, is a fitting shrine in which to commemorate the noble 'Anzac' dead. Not alone because of the valor, the fortitude, and the sacrifice which throughout centuries have gone to the building up of the British race, but because they symbolize the high qualities which our own people have inherited from the forefathers lived again in those dauntless heroes of Gallipoli who have passed on to the traditions of our history. And whatever those traditions are revered, in the United Kingdom, in Canada, in Australia, in New Zealand, and in Tasmania, in Canada, in South Africa—wherever the British flag flies there will be glorified those valiant men who strengthened the old, and forged new bonds to draw closer together and make of us one people. As a Canadian, I speak with certainty when I say that the men of the Empire are the service men of the Anzacs have rendered more universally recognized than in Canada. We feel that their splendid story is one of pride and honor too, and that they have helped to bring home to us the truth that though the seas may roll between, we are all Mother country, and daughter nations, one Empire. Not each for each, but one for all—we die, we live."

A Brave Act

Single Gunner Hurls Back Entire German Charge

An episode of the battle for Verdun, illustrating the cool bravery of the famous Colonial divisions of France, is related by a French army doctor, who witnessed the scene.

On a crest flanking the position of Douaumont, Lieut. S., belonging to an African artillery company, was stationed with his battery of "75's." At six o'clock in the morning, during a blizzard, an Austrian machine gunner fired on the foremost gun. A captain who was regulating the range was badly wounded. A doctor who hastened towards the wounded officer was killed.

The Germans had got the range of the battery, and for half an hour they rained shells on it, working terrible havoc among the men, horses and guns, and acted as server.

The situation was already desperate when Lieut. S., pushing his battery into a crater, continued to fire as coolly as at practice. One by one the gunners were slain all killed. Then Lieut. S. himself was hit and he lay on his back, his arm behind his gun, and acted as server.

At eight o'clock he had only four men left; at nine o'clock only two. He had no ammunition left, but he wrote to his wife that he was alone. The Germans decided to storm the position at the point of the bayonet. They were met by the machine gunners in serried ranks across the snow-covered ground until they were but 400 yards from the battery. Then Lieut. S. ever, he started to work his "75" at top speed. His shells tore through the ranks of the Germans, and he was whole ranks and plunging long furrows in the charging masses. The Germans, unprepared for such a reception, wavered, hesitated, then turned back and regained their lines in disorder, without suspecting that the doctor, to the main position of his division.

For his exploit the lieutenant has been awarded the Legion of Honor and the War Cross.

Smashed German Supply Base

A Scotsman, writing of trench experiences, relates what he heard from the lips of an aviator.

"It was my good fortune to smash up a German supply base, said the aviator, when I was on a raid. It was a risky time of it getting over the spot, where I dropped the bomb, but I was not a bit daunted. I looked over at the labor they have taken up at the call of Lloyd George.

The latest campaign on which the Militant Suffragists in Great Britain intend to embark is one for the redemption of 90 miles of German territory over at the labor they have taken up at the call of Lloyd George.

Shakespeare's Popularity.

If the test of popularity is the store set upon greatness by the number of books printed relating to a man, then the number of sales of Shakespeare's books placed upon the market—500,000—settles his pre-eminence in that respect as well as in many others. Allowing seven volumes to each set that would bring up the figure to 3,500,000.

This number is ten times that of the total number of books housed in the Bodleian Library and not far short of double the British Museum total, which is steadily increasing at the rate of 100,000 volumes each year. The British Museum Library catalogue, by the way, contains nearly 5,000 entries relating to Shakespeare, and the collection of Shakespeares on its shelves exceeds 30,000 separate books.

"I think you are the man that stole my shirt," said Mike O'Hafferty one day when he met a very suspicious looking foreigner roaming about his house.

"Do you think I would stoop so low as to take your shirt?" said the stranger.

"You hadn't to stoop at all. It was hanging up."

No "Water Cure" For Germans

Rich Germans accustomed in peacetime to leave their Fatherland to take the "water cure" in places outside Germany must now satisfy themselves that they require such cures, and that there is reasonable ground for believing that the cures cannot be affected by the waters of '49 Kell.

A Stupid Subterfuge

The stupidity and hypocrisy of Germany's contention that her systematic campaign of murder and piracy at sea was in retaliation for Great Britain's "attempt to starve millions of Germans into submission" have long been apparent to the neutral world. Aside from the fact that the blockade is a legitimate means of warfare, every schoolboy knows or ought to know that it was not established until after Germany announced her "submarine blockade" of the British Isles in February, 1915, and her determination to torpedo every ship that left or approached British shores, whether neutral or belligerent—Victoria Times.

THE BEAUTY OF SUNLIGHT

is that every garment washed with it bears the impress of purity; a purity begotten of sweet, cleansing oils, and maintained by absolute cleanliness in manufacture; a purity exalted by the co-operation of workers united for the purpose; a purity guaranteed by the "$5.00 guarantee," which rests upon every bar of SUNLIGHT SOAP.

A substitute for Sunlight is not good and none can be. Insist upon the genuine—Sunlight Soap.

Smashed German Supply Base. A Scotsman, writing of trench experiences, relates what he heard from the lips of an aviator.

"It was my good fortune to smash up a German supply base, said the aviator, when I was on a raid. It was a risky time of it getting over the spot, where I dropped the bomb, but I was not a bit daunted. I looked over at the labor they have taken up at the call of Lloyd George.

The latest campaign on which the Militant Suffragists in Great Britain intend to embark is one for the redemption of 90 miles of German territory over at the labor they have taken up at the call of Lloyd George.

Watered Margarine. Liquid margarine is the latest alternative to butter in Berlin, but even the German police cannot stand for such an adulteration, and a seller of the butter has been fined $500 for adulterating margarine with butter. The price of beef in Berlin is now at 75 cents per lb.

To Relieve Congestion

Two unusual measures have been under consideration by the Legislature of Massachusetts. One provides for an appropriation for houseboats or small houses with plots of ground for mechanics, laborers and other persons in the suburbs of cities and towns. The other bill authorizes any city to acquire land for the purpose of teaching agriculture to its inhabitants, including school children, adults and family groups.

The old lady from the country and her small son were driving to town when a huge automobile bore down upon them. The old lady was badly frightened and began to prance, whereupon the old lady leaped down and saved wildly to the chauffeur screaming at the top of her voice.

The chauffeur stopped the car and offered to help get the horse out. "That's all right," said the boy, who remained composedly in the carriage. "I can manage the horse. You just lead Mother back."

"There is this fact," said Jones, after a long argument on the question of man's superiority over woman—"At least there is one good, sweet and perfect thing given to man which woman cannot have." "Never!" cried his wife. "Never! I deny it! What do you mean?" "A wife!"

The Sphere of Woman

What of the Women Workers After the War is Over

"What can be done must be done now. I fear and hope I am wrong in fearing great troubles to follow this tremendous war, say Mr. Rider Haggard.

"His effect on the belligerent nations will be deep and far-reaching. In England the most startling thing with which we find ourselves face to face is female employment outside the home. Hundreds of thousands of women now because of the war have found their mother. From a multitude of homes they have emerged and now are doing their full share in the world's work and incidentally doing it exceedingly well, when their lack of previous experience is taken into consideration.

"Will they be content to lapse again into an aimless security with nothing in front of them save, perhaps, loveless marriage, or that combat with social conditions which is likely to end in their own ruin?"

"I think not."

"That means that they will do a share of the world's work, displacing many of the men who have been in the front of their work, perhaps, loveless marriage, or that combat with social conditions which is likely to end in their own ruin?"

"I think not."

The Spirit of Confidence

A Canadian officer formerly in a Canadian regiment writes: "I had a stroll over the ground at the back of our trench, and an awful sight met my eyes, but a slight, unfortunately, I have looked upon before—the sight of a battlefield after the battle. The Hun were practically blown out of their position; the trenches had been smashed so that one could hardly recognize that all that had been trenches; dug-outs were blown in, and there were signs that they held a good number of dead. The more I look at this position the Hun held the more I wonder how ever they were shifted, and I am more convinced that we can shift them from any position they hold."

LITTLE WORRIES

IN THE HOME

It Is These That Bring Wrinkles And Make Women Look Prematurely Old

Almost every woman at the head of a home meets daily many little worries in her household affairs. They may be so small to notice as to be overlooked, but it is these same constant little worries that effect the look prematurely old. Their effect may be noticed in sick or nervous headaches, flake appetite, pain in the back or side, salivary complexion and the coming of wrinkles, which every woman who has found new health through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will testify to. To those thus afflicted Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer a speedy and certain cure; a restoration of color to the cheeks, brightness to the eyes, a hearty appetite and a sense of freedom from weariness.

Among the thousands of Canadian women who have found new health through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. N. Worrall, Brookville, Ont., who says:—"After the birth of my second child I was so weak and run down that I was unable to do anything. I had been urged to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but like many others, thought they could not help me when doctors had failed to do so, but after much urging I decided to try them. To my surprise in a few days I found myself getting better. I then gladly continued their use and found myself constantly growing stronger, and eventually my household work without fatigue. I strongly advise every weak woman to get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

You can get these Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail for $2.00 a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Horses for Military Service

Sixty Thousand Already Bought in Canada By Allied Governments

Advices from the War Office indicate that a very considerable number of horses for military purposes are required from Canada this summer. Buying on a somewhat extensive scale is to be resumed by the British War Mount Commission, with headquarters in Montreal. About sixty thousand horses have been purchased in Canada for war purposes by the allied governments since the outbreak of the war, while more than six hundred thousand have been purchased in the United States. Probably another twenty thousand will be purchased in Canada this year. This insures a steady market and continued good prices for horses.

Lieut.-Col. Dr. Warnock, M. P., has the honor to report upon the work in Montreal to help supplement the work of securing and inspecting remounts.

Holland and the War
Sir Edward Russell, one of the best informed of British journalists, had this to say in a recent issue of the Liverpool Daily Post:—"Some six years ago when the present writer was in Holland the Dutch upper classes talked of the war between England and Germany as being inevitable. If all sides, then Holland's only resource against annexation by Germany would be the opening of sea dikes. That feeling has never changed during the present war, though Germany has lavished money and glory on its small neighbor. It can be said with emphasis that never before has our Foreign Office been in such close relation to the Dutch Government. Before the close of the summer some interesting developments are quite possible in that land of sturdy men, hard thinkers and good lives."—Edmonton Journal.

Farm Lands Will Increase in Value
The pioneer stage of farming is about over. Another generation will see the last of the free land snapped up. The younger men among farmers find land values increased during their life span proportion to the increase of the land and the increase of the demand for it. They will slowly come into use. Wild land speculation will gradually subside. Time will bring about the adjustment of the type of farming to the conditions of the locality. We shall hear less of big money crops. We shall find more of solid farming values and real contentment.

The Boy on the Farm

The Farm Offers the Best Opportunity for Success

The farming business is now coming to a point where it is generally recognized as the most prosperous business, offering the best future and the brightest prospects. That being so, there will be no trouble about keeping the boy on the farm, for he will be keen to see that it is the best place to make money, gain the respect of his fellow-men, and the ambition of every right minded boy. It is to gain these things that he has heretofore gone to the city; hereafter stay on the farm and that will send the youths of the city to what pays best in the sum of human happiness and comfort and success. It is now being demonstrated that in all these things the farm offers the best opportunities.

Germany's Next Harvest a Failure

The Daily Telegraph's Rotterdam correspondent says that according to reliable information he has received Germany's next harvest is bound to be a failure.

"It is this hopeless prospect for the future," he says, "that has impelled the German Government to a desperate peace venture through the medium of negotiations with the United States."

"The failure of the harvest is due entirely to the blockade. German crops have cut off from Germany all its overseas supplies, first, of cattle feed, stuff, artificial fertilizers, and then, in all parts of the Empire farmers have reported that their land will not this year bear its full yield."

"With this fact now before it, the Government knows that even if staved off in the meantime famine next winter is inevitable."

New Zealand Grumblers

General Mairwood inspected the New Zealanders in camp at Manukau, New Zealand, and presented a number of D. C. medals amid great enthusiasm. In an inspiring speech to the men the General said they had a lot more fighting to go through.

The world had heard of their glories week. They had never failed to win a medal. Only a few of the men had heard of grumbling. The first time was from the men who were set in the first line in the lead-in at Gallipoli, and the second time was in the evacuation, when men complained that they were not the best to leave. The King had been told of this latter complaint and he was proud of it.

A quartermaster in Pennsylvania caught a carp in a stream near his home and found a diamond ring in it while he was cleaning the fish for the supper. He took the ring to a jeweller, and found that it was worth $100. It is believed that the ring dropped from the finger of a fisherman or rather and was sucked out of the mud by the fish.

How the Blood Is Purified

By the Searching and Pains-taking Work of Healthy Kidneys.

In its circulation through the body the blood not only carries nutrition to the cells and tissues, but also collects the waste material resulting from the breaking down of cells and tissues, the ashes left by the fire of life.

In due course the blood passes through the kidneys to be purified of these poisonous impurities, and these filtering organs extract each day about 50 ounces of liquids and 2 ounces of solids, 500 grains of urea and 10 grains of uric acid, the material which is found in rheumatic joints.

Sudden changes of temperature throw a great strain on the kidneys, but it is overeating and drinking that are the usual cause of trouble. In a vain effort to remove the excess of waste matter the kidneys break down, uric acid and other poisons are left in the blood and the whole system is poisoned by impure blood.

Pains in the back and limbs, severe headaches, lumbago and rheumatism are the natural result. Hardening of the arteries, excessive blood pressure, weakening of the heart's action, Bright's disease may be anticipated unless prompt action is taken.

We like to think of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as preventive treatment, for by their timely use you can readily prevent all these dreaded disorders. Unlike other medicines for kidney troubles, they awaken the action of liver and bowels as well as the kidneys, and thereby effect a prompt cleansing of the whole filtering and excretory systems.

There is no way by which the action of the kidneys can be so quickly aroused and the blood cleansed of impurities as by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. It is therefore the greatest of blood purifiers and much sought for at this time of year, when everybody feels the need of a medicine to cleanse from the system the accumulation of poisonous matter.

One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edman, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Imitations cheapen.

The Highland Man's Toast

Scotland, the land of the thistle and heather, Scotland, the land of the mountain and flood,
Scotland, the birthplace of true-hearted heroes, Who gave for thy freedom their last drop of blood, Well may each Scotchman, while life lasts, remember The brave ones who fell against the numberless host Who tried to enslave her, in slavery degraded her,
And whose names shall forever be the Highland man's boast.
Here's to the heath, the hill and the
heather,
The bonnet, the plaidie, the kilt and the feather;
Here's to the heroes that Scotland can boast.
May their names never die—that's a Highland man's toast.
Fam'd is the name of our own hero, Wallace, Whose brave heart to Scotland was loyal and true, Who lived for her glory, who died that dishonor Might never descend on her bonnets of blue,
And the Bruce we still mourn, who at Bannockburn,
With his brave little band the warrior defied,
Who fought like a lion, vast armies defying, Till the field with the blood of her foemen was dyed.
Here's to the heath, the hill and the
heather,
The bonnet, the plaidie, the kilt and the feather;
Here's to the heroes that Scotland can
boast.
May their names never die—that's a Highland man's toast.

heather;

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST LAND REGULATIONS

THE sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the District. Entry by proxy may be made at any Dominion Lands Agency (but not Sub-Agency) on certain conditions.
Duties—Six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years.
An homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, or certain conditions. A habitable house is required, except where residence is performed in the vicinity.
In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $100 per acre.
Duties—Six months residence in each of three years after entering homestead patent; also 50 acres extra cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homestead patent on certain conditions.
A settler who has exhausted his homestead right may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price, $5 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 10 acres and erect a house worth $200.
The area of cultivation is subject to reduction in case of rough, stony or stony land.

vertisement will not be held for—$429.

Grow o'er the graves where our darling ones lie; Bloom there to show them, our friends and our former;
How Scotchmen can fight and how Scotchmen can die;
Bid them remember we need no defender,
Our hearts are as true as the brave ones of yore,
Whose names we will cherish till memory perish,
So let the toast resound from the hill to the shore.

No Two Per Cent To Be Sold

Dr. Strong of Alberta, threw a bombshell at the jitter bar recently. It may not be necessary to introduce a city by-law to banish the jitter bar, as has been suggested, for it is pointed out by Dr.
Strong, special representative of the Alberta government here to note the operation of the act in Winnipeg, that the provisions of the act prohibit the sale of even one per cent beer.

The temperance measure which comes into operation in Alberta on July 1, is framed on the Hugg John Macdonald act, and is almost wholly similar to the Manitoba temperance act. The definition of liquor is the same: "The expression liquor or liquors shall include all fermented, spirituous, and malt liquors, and all liquors containing more than 25 per cent alcohol shall be considered intoxicated."

The Alberta government is going to place the ban on the sale of all liquors as defined in the act. Thus, if liquor contains but one-half per cent of alcohol it comes under the head of "fermented, spirituous, and malt liquors."

The decision of the Alberta government in this regard will no doubt be questioned and the courts asked to settle the issue.

Government officials in Manitoba are awaiting developments, and if the Alberta courts decide that the so-called "temperance or two per cent beer" is liquor, the sale of which under the act is prohibited, then the same definition will apply in Manitoba, and the administration of the act will demand that the sale of "temperance" beer be not allowed.

Boys and Girls As Workers

"Every one at work" is the call during war time. The more men recruited, the greater the responsibility on those left at home. Men who have worked hard and saved some money so as to spend their old age in comfort will be turning in again to help their sons on the farms or will step in to take the places of sons who have joined the colors. Women, the busiest of whom seem always able to do something more, will be dividing their time between home-hold duties and outdoor work. Young men from the farm will no doubt cut short their term at school or college and lend a hand at spring work and stay with the farm operations until the crops are harvested. Large numbers of soldiers will get temporary leave. Are there any others who can lend a hand in producing? What about the boys and girls who have been receiving instruction in local gardening? A pamphlet just issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture sets forth in illustrated and descriptive form how school garden work has been carried on in all the provinces of Canada. What are the boys and girls doing now? What is their education and training worth? Now is their opportunity to demonstrate at home in the most practical manner why they have been taught at school. The boys and girls of Canada, thousands in number, should be able to do their bit in contributing small gardens at home. Boys and girls patriotic gardens should produce upon tons of fresh vegetables for their home supply and they can readily learn how to put up the surplus for winter use. What pleasure they can get this year in growing food in the home garden and thus helping their fathers and mothers! Production along this line is patriotism.

Cowley Happenings

Several cases of chicken pox here now.

R. J. Swinney was up from Fishburn on Monday.

H. C. Morrison's St. Bernard dog was poisoned on Sunday night.

Nicholas Rowe and Sidney Guil-ard, of Maycroft, were in town on business on Friday.

Henry Jackson has enlisted in the 192nd Battalion and will leave for Calgary shortly.

The steel for the North Fork bridge at Olla crossing is being hauled out by C. Crayford.

Mrs. J. G. Swinney left on Tuesday for Fishburn, where she will visit friends for some time.

Rev. A. J. Rud, the Methodist missionary of Tennessee district, has gone to his home at Niagara Falls.

Miss Florence Gilmore has returned home from visiting with friends in the Tennessee district for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Treadway's children have been so sick with measles as to require a nurse to bring them back to health again.

Several of Mr. and Mrs. W. C.
Robinson's children are very low with measles. They have a trained nurse taking care of them now.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison's baby is very sick with measles and other

The demonstration train which was at Cowley on Friday was well worth seeing. Mary McIsaac, superintendent of Women's Institutes, and Myrtle Hayward, teacher of domestic science, gave addresses on several subjects which were very instructive. Every thing shown in the train was of interest and many new ideas were conveyed by the close observer and good listener.
Although a large crowd visited this

Oil Of Orilene Will Reduce Weight A Pound A Day

In many instances.—If you suffer from, excessive fat, stomach or liver disorders perhaps you do not know your trouble may be due to lack of oxygen in the blood.—How to tell

If you will make an actual test of all people who are fat, who suffer from stomach, liver, or kidney troubles, you would be surprised at the extraordinarily large number who lack oxygen in the blood and who are fat and ailing from no other cause. Without oxygen the blood loses its power to properly assimilate your food and consequently your flesh instead of being firm, pink and healthy, becomes flabby, soft and blubbery. As a result of this blood starvation you become fat and slow, generally weakened, all your down and soon get to a point where the toxins escape your breathless and suffling like a porpoise. To all such cases it is worse than useless to dose yourself with anasthetic drugs or powerful laxatives as this will only whip up your vital powers for the moment, may be at the expense of your life later on, and you must not continue to put on weight. Excessive fatty degeneration of the heart, liver or kidneys is exceedingly dangerous.

No matter what anyone tells you, if you are fat you owe it to yourself to make the following test: take a long deep breath and then see how many times you can take without being compelled to let it out. Next take an oil of orilene capsule, one after each meal and one at bed time for two weeks then make the same test again. You will be surprised to see how much farther you can walk and now much lighter and easier you will feel on your feet. People who are fat and ailing all the time may double their strength and endurance and reduce weight a pound a day by simply taking oil of orilene.
Oil of orilene capsules are designed to increase the little red corpuscles in the blood making it possible for the blood to carry more oxygen, supplying the body with more life more vitality and more vigor. Absolutely harmless, will not injure the most delicate, wonderfully adjusting. It is dispensed in this city by all druggists or can be had direct from Dr. D. Little, Drug Co., Box 170, Montreal, P.Q., on receipt of $1.00 note or money order. There is nothing better.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We wish to announce to the travelling public that we have recently taken over the proprietorship of the Union Hotel at Frank. Since our assuming charge, we have given the house a thorough cleaning from top to bottom. Several changes have been made in the plan of the ground floor, in order to supply the demand for an up-to-date pool hall. Our pool hall is equipped with self-set tables, which will in the near future be augmented by the addition of a large billiard table, an additional room for which is being added to the hotel. Our dining room is receiving particular attention and is being thoroughly renovated, and when completed will be first class condition. After June 30th we will convert the bar into a refreshment parlor, where soft drinks, ice cream, etc., will be served. In addition to other branches, we have a modern equipped commercial parlor, which is in charge of Mr. Blomqvist, who has had over ten years' experience in the trade and is thoroughly competent. It has been stated that hotels cannot be operated on a paying basis without the bar. Our past experience leads us to believe that an institution catering for fair treatment to the public can command sufficient support to make the venture a paying one, and have decided to give it a trial. We therefore solicit a share of your patronage, and guarantee satisfaction at all times to everyone. Yours truly,

THE UNION HOTEL

There was an Italian wedding in camp this week, when Nick Gramitico was married to a lady arriving from Italy on Sunday, and the marriage ceremony taking place at the Catholic church, the Rev. Father Beaton, officiating. After the ceremony the bride party went for a drive in Evans Bro's auto, and on their return they went to Mr. Gramitico's home, where they celebrated in good shape. The Italian band from Michel, B.C., was in attendance and furnished the music for the occasion. Refreshments were served. The bride and groom received a number of useful presents. They start housekeeping with the best wishes of their many friends.

Two McGill students have been arrested at Sydney, N.S., as spies. The young men, who were on a walking trip, carried a blue print of the district they were to traverse, and stopped to examine this before the house of a very patriotic lady. As it was soon discovered that they were merely students who were working there for the summer, they were released.

In 1887 there were only seven water-works plants in Canada. Today there are 528. The daily consumption of water in Manitoba per capita is 50 gallons, while in New Brunswick it is 145 gallons.

This is the saddest day in the history of the booze artists of this province. Dispensers are getting around with long-drawn mouths, looking anything but pleasant, while that fact is intensified by the receipt of a nicely worded circular inviting survivors of the booze business to help fill the gaps in the province's battalions.

Rev. W. T. Young delivered at the Baptist church a very interesting lecture on "Livingstone, the Great African Explorer." He illustrated the same by excellent lantern views. He also threw on the canvas some interesting views of the Crow's Nest Pass. A goodly number were present and found that they had an evening well spent. It is expected that in a month or two Mr. Young will be present here with another interesting lecture.

A little school girl in Blairmore has written the following essay on the duck: "The duck is a low, heavy-set bird. He is a mighty poor singer, having a coarse voice caused by getting so many frogs in his neck and he likes the water and carries a toy balloon in his stomach to keep from sinking; the duck has only two legs and they are set so far back on his running gear by nature that they come pretty near missing his body, some ducks when they get big curls on their tails are called drakes and don't have to set or hatch but just loaf and go swimming and eat everything in sight; if I were to be a duck I would rather be a drake than a duck. They walk like they use it for a spade, they bounce and bump around from side to side, if you scare them they will flap their wings and try to make a pass at singing."

Pte. G. W. Tisdale, son of O. E. Tisdale, well known secretary of the Oddfellows' Grand Lodge of Alberta, who left last year with the 56th Battalion, is reported missing in a recent casualty list.

The annexation of Westgate and Occidental to Los Angeles makes Los Angeles the largest municipality area in the United States. It has a total area of 387.92 square miles, crowding Greater New York, with an area of 314.75 square miles, into second place. Chicago is third with 198 and Philadelphia fourth with 129.

A proclamation rescinding the old North West Territories liquor laws will be one of the items in the special number of the Alberta Gazette, which will be issued soon. These laws affect the country to the north of Edmonton, where the permit system has been in force for many years. The proclamation becomes effective simultaneously with the new prohibition law.

It pays to advertise. In our last issue we published a notice to the following effect: "That two dollars that is owing the printing office for the last twelve months would enable the editor to buy a dish of ice cream at Padon's, a loaf of bread at Trabucatto's, a slave at Church's, a necktie at Thompson's, a cake of soap at Handley's and a pair of socks at Kalfour's, all of which were badly needed." In less than an hour after our paper reached our craving readers we received the goods, every thing but the shave nicely paroled. We appreciate everything but the necktie and the socks. The socks were not the kind usually carried in stock by Kalfour's, and one of them, a lady's sock at that, was patched from the toe to the waist with every other color than that of the original sock. The necktie smelled of St. Pat., and fearing a hoodoo was quickly consigned to the waste basket, where it kept company for at least an hour with the greenest sheet on earth received that week from four miles west. Pretty soon we are going to try again, this time to advertise for a wife, and in advance would advise all candidates to get their credentials in order.

The editor of this rag left Monday for Regina, where he represents the local committee at the convention of the western branches of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, being held in that city this week. Before returning to Blairmore he will visit Edmonton where the provincial convention is to be held on Monday and Tuesday next.

The militia department has decided that for the overseas forces no more Highland regiments will be authorized. Units at the front now wearing kilts will have to wear trousers when their present uniforms are replaced by others. This will apply to all but the pipers. The chief reason for this change is that the kilts are not suitable for the trenches, particularly in cold weather. They cause a great deal of trouble for the ordnance department, which has to issue special uniforms for the Highland regiments. The order will not affect the active militia regiments.

A conference for rural leadership will be held at the University of Edmonton on August 7th to 11th, under the auspices of the Department of Extension of the University of Alberta, in co-operation with the affiliated theological colleges, the Faculty of Agriculture, the U.F.A. and all others who are disposed to assist in realizing the object of the conference, to promote an interest in and find solutions for problems of rural life in Alberta. Teachers, farmers, ministers of all denominations and any others who are desirous of seeing the possibilities of rural life in Alberta realized are invited to attend. Arrangements are being made with the railways to secure regular convention rates. Board and room will be provided in the university residence for five days, at the rate of five dollars for each person.
